

Fourth quarter and full year results 2019

Investor presentation

12 February 2020

Highlights of the year 2019

Arion Bank is on a new trajectory after having undergone significant management and organizational changes and improvement measures in Q3

Earnings from continuing operations are ISK 14 billion and improve significantly. ROE from continuing operations improves YoY from 4.3% to 7.2%

Negative developments in businesses held for sale reduce net earnings to ISK 1 billion but are not reflective of future performance

The balance sheet was reduced strategically but at the same time the Bank continued to actively lend to new and existing customers

Return on assets under management was very good and the Bank has retained its number one position in equities trading for the 4th year in a row

The Bank adopted a new environmental policy and will put increased emphasis on sustainability both in operations and lending

The Bank has substantial surplus capital which allows it to pay a dividend of ISK 10.0 billion. This corresponds to a dividend yield of 6.4% on market cap year end 2019

Macroeconomic environment

Iceland is focused on sustainability

Committed to being carbon neutral by 2040

- Iceland ranks at the forefront when it comes to share of renewables in energy consumption, mostly through hydro and geothermal energy
- The second largest export industry in Iceland is fisheries. Most of the fisheries have MSC certification which supports eco-friendly fishing, stock strength and responsible and sustainable fisheries management
- The Icelandic population has grown by 9.5% in the last five years which equals an annual growth rate of 1.8%.
- Iceland is committed to being carbon neutral by 2040 according to government announcement

Soft landing, slow takeoff

GDP growth measured 0.2% in the first nine months of 2019, indicating milder slowdown than expected

- Despite falling exports the contribution of foreign trade to GDP growth is positive due to an even larger drop in imports. This development has played a key role in sustaining GDP growth
- Even though most analysts expect a softer landing than before, the outlook for 2020 has deteriorated due to slower growth in the country's main export sectors. However, GDP per capita will remain high
- The economy is well equipped to handle a slow down, with the monetary policy having already lowered interest rates by 150 bps.
- The proposed fiscal easing sides with the monetary policy, further softening the blow to the economy
- Consumption, both private and public, is expected to drive GDP growth in 2020

GDP growth

Key interest rate – seven-day term deposit rate

Tourist arrivals via KEF airport (millions and YoY growth)

Unemployment expected to peak in 2020

Economic adjustment through the labor market, not price levels

- Much larger drop in imports than anticipated and slower outflow into foreign assets supported the ISK in Q4, contributing to the modest appreciation.
- In former economic cycles the ISK has worked like a reset button for the economy, depreciating sharply when the export sectors have struggled causing inflation to spike.
- This time, however, inflation has remained low and is expected to stay below the CBI's inflation target in the coming months, largely due to the stable ISK.
- Collective wage agreements in April coincided with a softer economic outlook and reduced uncertainty in the economy.
- Reduced uncertainty is reflected in the payment card turnover, which has been showing positive signs in recent months.
- Although unemployment has continued to increase the climb hasn't been as steep as many feared. Unemployment is expected to peak in 2020.

Strong foundations

The export sectors, especially tourism, have proved to be resilient in the face of adversity

- Since WOW air's bankruptcy, spending per tourist has increased significantly, both in ISK and FX.
- A plausible explanation for this development is that each tourist is staying for longer, on average, than before.
- The drop in total overnight stays is mainly due to unlisted accommodation while hotels have mostly held their ground.
- The recent tourism figures are extremely positive for Icelandic tourism and the economy as a whole.
- The economy is well equipped to handle a short recession, with a positive net external position and historically low debt levels, both in the private and public sector.
- Recent economic development, coupled with monetary easing, has contributed to long-term ISK yields coming down and the Icelandic housing market holding its ground.

Financials

Highlights of the fourth quarter 2019

Arion Bank's revised strategy and organizational changes are already showing results as earnings from continuing operations continue to improve, yielding 10.8% ROE in Q4

- NIM improves to 3%
- OPEX trends lower on the back of actions in Q3
- Revenues / RWA's at 6.4% in Q4

Robust balance sheet management lowers RWA's, funding costs and bank levy

- Sale of a ISK 48 billion mortgage portfolio to the Housing Financing Fund completed and the corresponding prepayment of CB2
- Buy-back of outstanding senior bonds
- Share buy-back initiated in October

Developments in discontinued operations of ISK 8 billion results in negative net earnings of ISK 2.8 billion and negative ROE of 5.8% in Q4

Considerable restructuring at Valitor at year end with the aim of generating positive EBITDA. Sale process of the company continues

Net earnings from continuing operations Q4'18 vs. Q4'19

Income statement Q4 2019

Net earnings from continued operations improve markedly but discontinued operations have significant negative effect

- Net interest income decreases slightly as inflation is low and loan book is reduced in line with strategy
- Other revenue items holding up well and operating income 7% up from last year
- Operating expenses are 2% down from last year as the restructuring in Q3 is yielding results
- The Bank levy is unusually low in Q4 as the Bank was able to decrease the liability side of the Balance sheet before year end
- Positive net impairments are mostly due to the release of discount on mortgage portfolio which was sold during the quarter
- Negative effects from discontinued operations
 - Impairment on intangible assets at Valitor of ISK 4 billion in addition to operating loss and cost in the sale process of the company during 2019 of ISK 1.6 billion
 - Valuation change in assets at Stakksberg of ISK 2.4 billion, due to difficult market conditions with lower market price resulting in some plant closures internationally

Income statement 2019

The positive effect of the Bank's revised strategy in Q3 is not fully reflected in the full year numbers

- Strong growth in net interest income despite lower inflation mostly due to higher (average) interest bearing assets (1.8%) during most of 2019
- Other revenue items relatively strong and operating income increases by 4% from last year
- Operating expenses are under control as increase in salaries and related expenses is primarily due to redundancies in Q3 (ISK 1.1. billion)
- The impairment line is volatile YoY. Impairments are modest in 2019 as the release of discount relating to a sale of a mortgage portfolio in Q4 partially offsets the loss from the bankruptcy of WOW air in Q1 and TravelCo in Q2. Impairments in 2018 were high, mainly due to bankruptcy of Primera Air in Q3 2018
- Effective tax rate is 21% compared with 31% in 2018, due to more favorable revenue distribution
- Net effects of discontinued operations are unusually extensive, mainly due to valuation changes at Stakksberg and operation and changes at Valitor. The effect of these on the Bank's capital position is minimal

Net interest income

Revised strategy reflected in positive development in NIM as well as ratio of net interest income to credit risk

- Net interest margin increases to 3% in Q4 in line with revised strategy of increased focus on returns rather than loan growth. Strong performance in light of:
 - Historically low policy rate
 - Lower inflation during the quarter (2.3% vs 4.2% in Q4 2018)
 - Issuance of Tier 2 subordinated bonds in 2019
- Reduction of wholesale funding in ISK and FX have positive effect on NIM as well as increased proportion of ISK in liquidity buffer
- Net interest income decreases 3% from Q4 2018 mainly due to 8% decrease in interest bearing assets
- Favorable development in Net interest income to average credit risk following increased focus on capital management and return on loan book
- Lower interest income from loans to customers and lower effect from inflation on Net interest income is largely offset by lower funding cost in deposits and borrowings
 - Prepayment of expensive funding and strong liquidity management supports NIM

Net interest income

Credit risk

Net interest income Q4 2018 vs Q4 2019 (ISK million)

Net fee and commission and net insurance income

Stable net commission income with scope for improvement - net insurance income continues to trend positively

Net fee and commission income

- Income from lending and guarantees increase from prior quarters, partly due to prepayment of loans and as capital velocity increases
- Income from asset management is very stable. Assets under management were ISK 1,013 billion at 31 December, an increase of 4.4% between years
- Revised strategy should support base for increased fee and commission income

Net insurance income

- Decrease from Q3 mainly due to seasonality in non-life insurance. 2.7% increase in NII from Q4 2018
 - Earned premiums increased by 8% in Q4 YoY
- Volatility in non-life, often affected by weather conditions over the winter
- Strong Combined ratio is competitive in the domestic market

Net financial income

Decrease in bond holdings as the Bank is managing liquidity and tax at year end

- Net financial income in Q4 was positively affected by:
 - Equity holdings measured at fair value as markets were favorable during the quarter
 - Realized gain on FX bond holdings sold in connection with prepayment of borrowings
- It was negatively affected by:
 - Premium on prepayments of borrowings
 - Net loss of fair value hedge of interest swap
- Bond holdings are mainly used for liquidity management
 - Decrease significantly due to prepayments of borrowings, both in ISK (CB 2) and FX (EMTN issued bond due in Q2 2020)
- Equity holdings are mainly strategic positions
- Total portfolio of Vördur is ISK 18.1 billion; ISK 11.4 billion of bonds and ISK 6.7 billion in equity instruments

Net financial income

Total operating expenses

Cost-to-income is trending towards target

- Number of FTE's reduced by 13.5% at the parent company from Q4 2018, mostly due to organizational changes at the end of Q3 with cost savings materializing in Q4
- Salaries and related expenses reduced by 14% from Q4 2018 while number of FTE's reduced by 11%. General wage inflation was 4.9% in the same period
 - Salaries and related expenses were affected by capitalized salaries which amounted to ISK 142 million in Q4 (nil in Q4 2018) relating to investment in the Sopra core system
- Other operating expenses increase year on year, due to IT and depreciation. Other items such as housing and office costs decrease

Balance sheet - Assets

Balance sheet brought down in line with strategy as both loans and liquidity decrease

- The Balance sheet decreases by 10.8% from 30.09.2019
- Loans to customers decrease by 4.7% from 30.09.2019 and 7.2% from year-end 2018 in line with strategy of focus on returns over loan growth
 - ISK 48 billion mortgage portfolio sold during the quarter
- Decrease in financial instruments due to sale of bonds with proceeds used to prepay wholesale funding
- Very strong liquidity position despite dividend payment during Q1 2019, share buyback during Q4 and large prepayments of borrowings
 - Total LCR ratio is 188% and ISK LCR ratio is 158%
- The Bank is very well positioned to meet the funding requirements of its customers in both ISK and FX

■ Loans to customers ■ Loans to credit institutions ■ Cash and balances with Central Bank ■ Financial instruments ■ Intangible assets ■ Other assets

¹Other includes investment property, investment in associates, tax assets, assets and disposal groups held for sale and other assets

Loans to customers

Focus on profitability results in the loan book trending lower thus releasing RWA's

- Loans to customers decrease by 7.2% during 2019
- The loan book continues to be well balanced between individuals and corporates
- Loans to individuals decrease 8.0% during the year due to sale of ISK 48 billion mortgage portfolio
 - Loans to individuals increase slightly from YE 2018 taking into account sale of mortgage portfolio
- The corporate loan book reduction has released approx. ISK 45 billion of RWA's since YE 2018
 - Loans to corporates decrease by 6.5% from YE 2018 but stable from 30.09.2019
 - Good diversification between sectors in the corporate loan book
- Demand for new lending affected by temporary economic slowdown
 - Reflected in loan commitments, 32% decrease from YE 2018
- 87% of the loan book was classified as stage 1 at YE 2019 compared with 92% at YE 2018
- The loan book is collateralized 89.8%, compared with 90.6%, at YE 2018

Own funds

Capital ratio very strong despite dividends, buy-back of own shares and impairment of held for sale assets

- CET 1 ratio decreases from 21.6% to 21.2% due to proposed dividend of ISK 10.0 billion and buy-back of the Bank's shares amounting to ISK 4.7 billion
 - Effects from significant impairments on held for sale assets minimal as these assets are largely intangibles
- Tier 2 ratio increased by 80 bps from Q3 2019 and 200 bps from 31.12.2018
 - In Q4 the Bank issued SEK 225 million 10NC5 (ISK 2.9 billion) as well as further ISK 1.7 billion issuance in ISK
- Leverage ratio remains very strong in all respects
- Arion Bank is considering its options regarding the issuance of Additional Tier 1 (AT1) notes
 - A bill has been proposed in the Icelandic parliament that interest on AT1 notes will be tax deductible. Arion Bank's estimate is that it's likely the bill will be approved
